

Hello, I'm Markus!

I studied Microsystems Engineering at the OTH Regensburg. I decided on this course of study after completing an internship in this professional field. Since I have always been passionate about the natural sciences, this was another reason for choosing this course of study.

Ultimately, I was also convinced by the good career prospects in this ubiquitous profession.

If you have any questions about OTH or the Microsystems Engineering course, just write to me.

markus.langmantel@st.oth-regensburg.de