

I'm studying environmental and industrial sensor technology. What I personally like best about this degree course is that it is very future-oriented and that there are many different areas of application later on, as sensors have become indispensable almost everywhere. If you have any questions about studying (exams, eLearning program,...) or student life in Regensburg in general, please feel free to contact me.

jana.lakner@st.oth-regensburg.de