Course
Comparative International Leadership and Management Studies (CIS)

Lecturer
Prof. Dr. Markus Bresinsky

Objectives
This module will examine the conditions and challenges of cross-border municipal cooperation in a specific case study. This year students will analyze and investigate the cooperation between Wenzenbach (Germany) and Susice (Czech Republic).

Competencies:
• Understand the issues of cross-border municipal cooperation
• Know how to analyze the actor, structures and processes of the cooperation
• Know how to support decision makers and policy makers in developing a sustainable cooperation
• Know how to present results to plenum and work groups
• Improve English conversation, reading and writing

Content
• Administration & Organization; Introduction
• What is cross-border municipal cooperation?
• Work groups and plenum discussion
• Symposium
• Study trip to Susice (CZE) and Wenzenbach (GER)

Grading/Evaluation
Written essay (English) 1500 words

Attendance
Max. 25 students (circa 15 IRM, circa 10 BW)

Admission
Registration via WebUntis
Attendance at the first lecture mandatory
If there are more applications than places, the allocation of places will be carried out in the first lecture.

Start
2018-03-21

Special Note
Reading of literature, scientific working style, and self-commitment to work groups is mandatory!

The course will be held together with students of the study program "International Relations and Management".

Literature
The following resources are online available from OTH Regensburg network. German book has also English article.
