

Career Entry for International Students – Getting Started on the German Job Market

Date: Friday, 30.04.2021, 13.00 - 14.30

Entering the German job market is often a major challenge for international students. Many students are not sufficiently familiar with the specifics of the job application process in Germany. Some students have likely already been able to gain initial experience through internships and secondary jobs. Our webinar will provide you with important assistance in planning your career in Germany, as well as getting started on the German job market.

We will present you ideas and suggestions on how to make the best possible use of your university time by making important connections and acquiring additional qualifications. In addition to that, we will provide some suggestions in relation to your application documents and commencing your career in Germany. Additionally, we will explain you the best way to overcome cultural challenges and show you typical mistakes that should be avoided.
